Electronic Response: [REDACTED]

Dear Justin Long:

The Colorado Bureau of Investigation (CBI) received your request on December 1, 2025. Because the CBI is a criminal justice agency under section 24-72-302(3), C.R.S., this request falls under the provisions of the Colorado Criminal Justice Records Act (CCJRA), found at section 24-72-301, C.R.S. et seq.

For all criminal justice records other than records of official actions, the decision whether to grant the request is consigned to the exercise of the custodian's sound discretion pursuant to section 24-72-304(1), C.R.S. In exercising that discretion, CBI's custodian balances the five factors set forth in the case Freedom Colo. Info., Inc. v. El Paso Cty. Sheriff's Dept., 196 P.3d 892, 899 (Colo. 2008). Below, please find the CBI's responses regarding the records that are the subject of your request:

- CBI investigative files related to Logan County cattle mutilations

CBI has included all records that are in our possession related to Cattle mutilations. While they are not specific to Logan County, they are from the time period requested and these are the only documents we have on cattle mutilations.

Please Note: These records have already been redacted because of a similar CORA request; therefore, there is no cost associated with this response.

- Forensic laboratory analyses, pathology reports, photographs, and scene diagrams

CBI has included all records that are in our possession related to Cattle mutilations. While they are not specific to Logan County, they are from the time period requested and these are the only documents we have on cattle mutilations.

Please Note: These records have already been redacted because of a similar CORA request; therefore, there is no cost associated with this response.

- Any investigative notes or correspondence with Sheriff Tex Graves or deputies Jerry Wolever, Tom Bohannon, Bob Stone, or Gary Cure

After a comprehensive search of our Case Management System, as well as our Archival section, it has been determined that the CBI has no records responsive to your request. This was based on a search of the information you provided. However, this does not mean no files exist at all. Due to the age of these records, they would be paper files in our archival section, and if CBI investigated a crime, it is possible the names you have provided were not included in the searchable terms. If you have a more precise incident or timeframe of when you believe CBI may have been involved in an investigation, that information could lead to a more precise search of our files. Additionally, please note that CBI would only have files related to investigations that we participated in, we do not maintain records of investigations for the entire state.

- Any documents referencing a large UFO nicknamed “Big Mama” or smaller associated aerial objects
